BRANDENBURG.

It C. Turner has gotten back to town

again.

Mr. D. W. Fairleigh, of Louisville, was in town last week.

Mr. Jess Lane, of Kewanee, was in our city Saturday.

Miss Little J. Ditts was in the city last week on business.

Mr. F. K. Mallie says he desires matrimony.

So he says.

Mr. W. F. Casper spent Thanksgiving

at home with his parents.

Mr. W. M. Ditts and E. H. Shel-

man were in the city last week.

Miss May D. Pusey spent Thanksgiving

at home with her father and brother.

Mr. F. Ditts, Sr., of Louisville, was down last week on a visit to his children.

Mrs. Schramm, of Mississippi, a sister of Mrs. J. A. McChes, left for home last week.

Mr. and Mrs. Ed Yeakel returned from

Louisville last week, after several days

visit.

Dr. John M. Hardin has been spending

the greater part of his time in Louisville

of late.

Mrs. Jess Ashcraft, Sandy Hill, is visiting her sister, Mrs. Wm. Dooley, Long

Branch.

Miss Addie G. and Julia E. Ditts are in Louisville this week visiting X-mas

prospects.

Mr. Lonnie Moreman came up from

Cloverport on Thanksgiving and remained

Sunday.

Mr. John F. Frakes raised the finest

turkey this year he has seen on the market

this season.

Mr. Sam Dent, Leitchfield, Ky., was in town last week. Mr. Dent has many friends here.

Miss Jess Dooley returned last week

from a pleasant visit to Miss Cora

Ashe, Sandy Hill.

Sheriff Hardin spent his Thanksgiving

holiday in that miserable snow and rain.

John is full of his boyhood fads.

Geo. Yeakel & Co. are the pioneers of low prices. Oh, how lovely and how cheap

the wares are of their stock.

Mrs. J. A. McChes has been spending several days with her daughter, Mrs. W. M.

Ditts, and grandson, Fred Macwell.

Mr. Thos. H. Ditts cooperates fully with his brother, Geo. Yeakel, in his efforts to bring down the price of goods.

A good sermon was delivered at the Methodist church on Thanksgiving day by

Mrs. Morrison, the pastor of that church.

Miss Eva and Maud Herndon were at home from their school in Louisville on Thanksgiving and remained until Sunday.

Mr. A. Ditts, Jr., has charge of the day watch in pumping the Breckinridge No. 1

well, and Jimmie Breckinridge the night

watch.

We need a depot at Long Branch; the weather is getting too bad to sit out there in the cold and wait for a train that is behind time.

Born to the wife of John K. Ditts, on November 29, 1899, a son named John. The gentle man seems to be much pleased at it

it was his first.

The immense bargains of Geo. Yeakel &

Co. keep them busy and rushed all the time. Very few buyers are enjoying the trade that this firm is having.

Mr. H. C. Hawkins received a telegram

last week that one of his brother's children was very ill in Kansas City and she left on the first train for that city.

Bargains in dry goods, bargains in boots

and shoes, bargains in cloaks and shawls,

bargains in blankets and shawls,

bargains in everything at Geo. Yeakel &

Co's.

Mr. Robert Smith, of Wolf Creek, was in town Saturday. Mr. Smith has been a great sportsman, usually taking several loads of hoop-poles, corn, etc., South every winter.

The fight is still going on to beat our colored people out of the city. The gentleman seems to be much pleased at it it was his first.
